WASHINGTON, May 21.—The wedding of Nellie Grant and Mr. Sartoris took place at 11 o'clock this morning in the East Room, Rev. Dr. Tiffany performing the ceremony. The East Room was elaborately and beautifully decorated with flowers, evergreens, &c., the central piece being a large marriage bell composed of the choicest white blossoms. A platform was arranged at one end of the room on which the bridal party stood, which consisted of the bridegroom, the bride and Col. Fred. Grant, the only groomsman, with seven bridesmaids.

Debate in Dominion Parliament on the Canada and Pacific Railroad Bill—Prospects for the Passage of the Measure.

OTTAWA, May 21.—In the debate in Parliament last evening on the passage to a second reading of the Pacific railroad bill Dr. Tupper protested against the scheme, contending that it would involve an outlay of upwards of two hundred millions, and [illegible] though the proposition to temporarily abandon the section between Nipigon and Nipissing, [illegible] length was adopted, Canada would be dependent six months of the year on American [lines] for access to the Northwest.

[illegible] argued that the country was unable to construct a through line on Canadian soil at present, and he notified the British Columbians that they need not expect that the work would be prosecuted more rapidly than circumstances would admit without increasing taxation.

Robson, ex-Premier of British Columbia, in a speech argued in favor of constructing sooner a line with a three feet six and a half inch gauge, entirely on Canadian soil. By using trestle work instead of expensive piers and by the exercise of economy the road need not cost over $90,000,000, and could be completed within seven years.

The late Vice President of Sir Hugh Allen's company stated that the reasons why Sir Hugh's delegation to England in 1873 failed to raise capital were the hostility of the Grand Trunk and the Pacific scandal, which frightened capitalists from investing in Canadian enterprises.

No attempt was made to divide the House on the measure, and it is probable that a third reading will pass unopposed, as the Radicals have an overwhelming majority in the Lower House. In the [Senate] however an attempt will probably be made to limit the powers given the Government and to amend the measure as to insure an immediate prosecution of the work on the whole line from [illegible] river to the Pacific.

SANDWICH ISLANDS.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The steamer Mikado brings Honolulu dates to May 9th. The Legislature was opened on the 30th of April. There were present about 1,000 people. The King delivered an address and said the resources of the country had been largely depleted by the extraordinary expenses necessary for the removal of the lepers to [illegible] and the burial of two sovereigns and the election of their successors. He favors a commercial treaty with the United States, but deprecates any cession of territory to the United States. He favors increasing facilities for steam navigation with San Francisco and Australia, and recommends a Commission of learned men to codify the laws. The [Assembly] defeated the proposed amendment to the Constitution separating the House. This measure was advanced by Lunalilo, who hoped to thereby restore the Constitution of 1852.

The Cyphrenes, from Australia, was overdue at Honolulu. She is overdue here, and the belief is general that she has met with some accident. She is about twelve days overdue here.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

RELIGIOUS, LOCAL, PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

[From the P. C. Advocate.]

The Willamette University of Salem, Oregon, T. M. Gatch, President, and Rev. C. W. [illegible], Agent, is represented as being in a high and prosperous condition. A very large number of students have been enrolled this year, and the financial condition was never better.

We are requested to announce that on next Sabbath evening Rev. A. B. Smith, pastor of the A. M. E. Zion Church, on Third, between B and C streets, will deliver a special discourse on the "Great want of the Churches of to-day." Services will commence at 7:30 P. M. All are cordially invited to attend.

We visited the County Hospital on Saturday last. A brief survey of the premises satisfied us that the present management is characterized by neatness, economy and general prosperity. The inmates (there are but seven now) are well provided for and are contented. The farm is under a good state of cultivation, and yields annually all the hay, grain, fruits and vegetables needed, saving thereby a large annual expense. Mr. R. Cleghorn, the Superintendent, exhibits in his administration those characteristics of firmness, good judgment and Christian kindness, which eminently qualify him for his office. The monthly expenses are not over half what they were under the former administration. Mr. Cleghorn expects to add [illegible] to the library, of books to be contributed for that purpose by the benevolent people of Portland. We trust his humane efforts will be very successful.

[From the Sentinel.]

A number of Irish citizens by birth and descent have organized a new Irish Society, having for its object Benevolence and Brotherly Union. The name selected for the new society is United Irishmen of Portland, and the main features of the organization are similar to all benevolent associations. The admission fee is $10, monthly dues $1. In case of sickness members receive $10 per week, and whenever a death occurs among the members $75 is appropriated towards funeral expenses. The society will meet this (Friday) evening for the purpose of holding its first annual election of officers for the ensuing year.

His Grace, the Most Rev. Archbishop, returned from his pastoral visit to Grand Ronde on Monday last. At St. Michael's Church, Grand Ronde, the Bishop had the happiness to confirm thirty six persons and had twenty postulants for Holy Communion. At St. Patrick's Church, in Yamhill county, there were nine persons confirmed and fourteen recipients of Holy Communion. At both places the attendance was very numerous, numbers being unable to gain admission to the churches.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 21.—The French exile Henri Rochefort was a passenger on the steamer Mikado, and is in the city at the present time, but secluded.

Greenbacks [illegible]

It is stated Woodhull & Claflin will open a brokers office at No. [illegible] Market street.

The result of the opposition line of steamers between this port and China has been to materially reduce the price of passage and freight charges. The last steamer hence of the Pacific Mail line carried freight at 10 cents per ton, [illegible] and $50 per ton some months since. Also the old line is now bringing Chinamen at $12 per head against $40 heretofore.

It seems pretty certain that Henri Rochefort is not in the city, but left at once for the East. All efforts to find him were unavailing.

The report that the Cyphrenes transferred her passengers to the Mikado relieves those who had fears for her safety.

MARTINEZ, May 21.—A sad accident occurred at Nortonville last evening. J. W. Simpson, a miner in Mount Hope mine, started to leave the shaft, and when in the gangway a piece of sandrock fell, striking the unfortunate man on the head, crushing his skull and killing him instantly. He leaves a family. All work at the mines has been suspended until after the funeral, which takes place this afternoon.

SUCKER FLAT, May 21.—A sad accident occurred in Blue Gravel mine this morning. Jas. Bell and Harry O'Brien, while working in a cut eighteen or twenty feet deep, were caved upon and seriously if not fatally injured. Bell had one leg broken badly. The foot, being almost severed from the leg, was amputated soon after. O'Brien was almost covered with rocks and gravel. His back and both legs are broken. His chances for recovery are considered bad.

Suicide of a Well-known Salemite.

SALEM, May 21.—Perry Herren, brother of Recorder Herren, of Albany, an old resident of this county and a good citizen, committed suicide last night. He was found early this morning in an alley back of his dwelling, lying on his back with a pistol in his right hand, his face and head and hair a mass of clotted blood. Although the body was still warm, it was evident that death was instantaneous, the ball entering on the left side of the head just above the ear. A Coroner's jury was summoned and a verdict rendered of death from a wound caused by a pistol in his own hands. No reasons are known for the act, but financial embarrassment is supposed to be the cause. He was on the special police force of this city for a long time, was universally respected, and was a good man in all respects.

THE DEATH OF DUELING IN MISSISSIPPI.

[From the New Orleans Picayune, April 26th.]

A correspondent of the Picayune having called upon Gov. Ames, asked what course would be taken.

Gov. Ames—I am determined to put an end to the business. When Col. Elliott killed Judge Cooley, though a strong pressure was brought to bear against me, I thought that I would not interfere, believing as the thing was done it might be a preventive for the future. In short, if a man grossly insulted another and was killed, I had an idea that people would be rather chary of how they did such things in the future, and therefore took no hand. The people of Louisiana, however, did not seem to appreciate this at all, and lo and behold the very next difficulty they had among themselves they came over here and fought. I grew a little angry, but as no one was hurt I took no action again. But when the difficulty took place between Phillips and Bienvenu and the latter was killed, I determined to put a stop to this bloody work at once, and telegraphed to arrest all persons fighting duels in this State, and to prosecute them to the full extent of the law. Now, as if to add insult to injury, here comes along a whole crowd of people to engage in another affair. They are fully equipped. They bring wine, cigars and [illegible], and then go coolly to work to try and kill each other, with newspaper correspondents to chronicle events. Fortunately no one is badly hurt, but the whole crowd is arrested and locked up. Now I propose to have them all indicted and punished as an example. I am going not only to find true bills against them, but also against the participants in the others, and if I can not get them in this State I will [issue] requisitions and have them brought here in irons. They need not think because it is the custom in Louisiana that it is going to be the custom in this State. If I can't get witnesses against them I will have some one of the party [illegible] to turn State's evidence, and I will convict them on that. If they all refuse to testify, then I can, under the laws of this State, [send] them to jail, and I [illegible]

MRS. VAN COTT.—The Springfield Republican tells the following: The evangelist Mrs. Van Cott—[illegible]—wrote from New Orleans to Mrs. Hall of this city recently for a spring bonnet, which was to reach her at Chicago on her way across the continent (trimmed with no flowers or feathers, she said), and told this amusing incident of a prayer offered in her behalf by a colored brother in one of her ardent meetings: "O Lord, send dy angel to pin de wings on sister Banett's heels dat she may fly tro' de world preachin' de eberlastin' gospel." And one added: "Lord, give her wings on her shoulders too, or de preachin' will not have effect, for she'll fly upside down."

A LOUD CALL FOR DR. DAWNE.

THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION IN THE [illegible]—[illegible] FACTS IN THE AFFIRMATIVE—[illegible] RESEMBLANCE BETWEEN THE INDIVIDUAL FROM FAYETTEVILLE DISTRICT, ARKANSAS, AND SENATOR MITCHELL—A SCATHING REVIEW OF DAWNE'S VINDICATION.

ALBANY, May 20, 1874.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I have been waiting ever since the appearance of Dr. Dawne's card in the Mercury of the 14th inst. to see whether or not he would either in person or by proxy make any further answer to the specific charges contained in my former communication. I could not believe that any sane man would rest content with the weak and silly showing made in that card, but it seems that that is indeed all that he has to say for himself. It is true that the Doctor has been "vindicated" (as the Mercury very ironically terms it) by our old Albany acquaintance Judge Thornton and by some unknown man from Arkansas who refuses to give his name. Both of them have published communications in the Mercury (to which I shall refer more particularly by and by), but they really add nothing to the case. After all these "vindications," the fact remains that Dr. Dawne's only reply to the grave charges of ignorance, incompetence and deliberate imposture and falsehood which have been preferred against him is his weak and puling card. But if that is his only defense, then I am surprised that he has made any defense at all. For as I view it the card amounts simply to a very disingenuous plea of guilty, coupled with a very contemptible begging for mercy. Surely no intelligent man can believe, after reading that document, that the Doctor is anything but a pious fraud. The card occupies an entire column of the Mercury, and yet it does not contain a single denial of any allegation that I have made against him.

As to the charge that the Doctor has neither the education nor the acquaintance with our schools and school system necessary to qualify him for the office which he seeks, he says not a word. He ignores it altogether. Perhaps he thinks that it isn't necessary for a man to know anything about education to be a Superintendent of Public Instruction. And [the] Doctor [illegible] that might have been so among the carpet baggers of Arkansas, but it isn't so here.

But after all it was perhaps the best course for the Doctor not to deny his incompetence. He knows as well as I that he isn't qualified to teach a common country school, much less to superintend all the schools in the State. Why, even Ben Hayden is compelled to confess that Dawne's education is hardly "up to the mark." He stated publicly on the floor of the Convention in this city at the time the "Doctor" was nominated that "he had never sat at the feet of Gamaliel," which, for Ben Hayden, was a very delicate way of putting the fact of his incompetence. Ben only supported him because his Democratic record was unimpeachable. That must be a very coarse kind of scholarship, indeed, which will not pass through the sieve of Ben Hayden's critical taste! An education that is inferior to his standard is hardly high enough to oversee the educational interests of Oregon.

I can readily believe that the "Doctor" is not such a fool as to desire to provoke further investigation and criticism of his qualifications for the office for which he is running. He knows that there is not an educated man in Oregon who is thoroughly acquainted with him who does not regard his nomination for such an office as simply ridiculous—a burlesque of the coarsest and broadest kind. He knows too that there are too many letters and other documents of his scattered about Oregon to make it safe for him to tempt me to publish specimens of his composition verbatim et literatim. He does not care to appear before the people of Oregon as a kind of involuntary Josh Billings with the wit left out. Besides, he is afraid that if he should provoke me too far I might tell about how he used to have a certain gentleman doctor [correct] his pronunciation of those hard words in the lectures on Nervous Diseases that he copied out of Hammond last winter. You see the Doctor is a little sensitive on this point, and it makes him feel sore even yet to hear any allusion to that absurd performance of his in pronouncing the name of Thucydides the Greek historian as though it was spelled "Thook-y-dieds" (three syllables). Certainly then it was commendable prudence in the Doctor not to insist on any further discussion of that point as to his educational qualifications.

The greater part of the Doctor's card is devoted to the charge as to his being an impostor in pretending that he is an "A. M." and an "M. D." and a graduate of the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana, when the evidence shows that he is nothing of the kind, and that his representations on that subject are false from beginning to end. And yet strange to say he does not deny the charge! He simply squirms around it in the most contemptible way, and refuses to give a straightforward manly answer to any of my statements on that subject. He hasn't even the hardihood to repeat his assertion that he is a graduate of the school referred to, nor indeed, to say that he is a graduate of any school whatever. Nor does he name a single person who knows about his being a graduate. He says it is true that if Dr. Carpenter had told him that he was going to write he would have furnished him the names of the "proper persons" to address, but he doesn't deign to tell the people whom he is asking for their votes, who these "proper persons" are.

The Doctor's answer on this point about his shallow and contemptible trick in claiming college honors to which he has no right is all summed up in the statement that he has sent for his diploma by express. Well, perhaps he has sent for a diploma. There are places where they have those things for sale, and where, if a man will only pay enough, he can get a diploma without attending lectures or studying at home a single day. They say that there is a medical college of that character at Philadelphia, and [illegible] at Cincinnati. I have no doubt then that if Dr. Dawne will send to the proper place he can get such diplomas, and I am quite sure that if he ever receives a diploma it will be a [illegible] [illegible]. But even if he should succeed in procuring one of those medical patent outsides, to hide the [illegible] done to his reputation he would find it altogether too thin to deceive the educated people of this State. On the whole I don't believe that the Doctor will risk it. He will prefer to trust to the uncertainties and delays of the express to help him out of his present difficulty. It would be a singular sort of express company that couldn't keep a diploma on the way from Virginia to Oregon until after the election anyhow. After that the Doctor won't complain very loudly if it should happen to get lost out of the express box and never reach here at all.

But if that diploma [illegible] come, the Doctor must not forget that it must be a diploma from the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana. He has repeatedly and positively asserted that he is a graduate of that institution, and by that assertion he must abide. Nor should the Doctor forget that [illegible] diploma will not suffice. He must [illegible] for he has claimed not only the degree of "M. D." but that of "A. M." also. It is true that the latter degree has been much abused by being conferred on unworthy persons, but that it gives no man but a [illegible] preacher the right to [illegible] himself "A. M." when he is not.

If Dr. Dawne is a bona fide M. D., it is indeed singular that he doesn't mention the name of the institution at which he was graduated (Dr. Richard Grant White's lecture [illegible]), and that he doesn't tell us of at least one person who knows of his graduation and will be willing to say so. Surely if he ever was graduated he must at least remember the name of the college at which the interesting event occurred, and there must be somebody beside himself who knows about it.

The Doctor seems to realize that these ugly disclosures have made some uncomfortable stains on his reputation, but instead of trying to wipe them out he attempts to cover them with a coat of whitewash in the shape of a flaming puffing resolution passed by a quarterly conference down in Arkansas on the occasion of his leaving that State. But that little dodge will hardly serve his present need. He may print resolutions in puffing himself from now until—that diploma comes—but they will not help his case. He must meet and answer the charges that have been made against him fairly and openly like a man. Until he does that the people of Oregon will regard him as a first-class fraud, whatever the brethren of Fayetteville District, Arkansas, may have thought of him. He says that he came to Oregon with an unsullied character, but if he persists in letting these charges go unanswered he will find when he comes to settle among his effects that he has left that character where he left his diploma.

This is a very plain matter, it seems to me. Dr. Dawne has been claiming all along that he has received the degrees of "A. M." and "M. D." He has signed his name to college diplomas with these titles appended to it. More than this, he has distinctly and positively asserted not once only, but repeatedly, that he was graduated from the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana in 1866, whereas the official catalogue of the institution and a letter from its Dean prove not only that he was not graduated there in 1866, but that he was never graduated there at all. These are undeniable facts. I have them from Dr. Carpenter himself, and I have personally examined the catalogue referred to. Besides, Dr. Dawne has not disputed a single one of these allegations. I challenge him to deny any one of them. I also challenge him to produce a single syllable of testimony to exculpate himself from the charge of imposture and fraud which I have preferred against him. I challenge him to mention the name of a single individual who knows of his having been graduated at the school of which he claims to be an alumnus, and who will substantiate his claim. I challenge him to give the name of the institution which conferred upon him either of the degrees that he pretends to have received.

Come, Doctor, the issue is fairly made and you must meet it. If you are what you claim to be, you can easily furnish the proof of it. There are telegraph lines stretching all over the land, and if there is in the whole United States a responsible man who has personal knowledge of your having been graduated from a Medical College or any other kind of a college, you can procure his testimony in a very few hours. There are gentlemen in Salem who will furnish the money to pay for any bona fide dispatches that you may get on that subject. One of those gentlemen has already made that proposition to you in person. Come now, produce your testimony or confess that you have been guilty of willful misrepresentation in this matter, and that you are nothing but an impostor and a cheat.

This case reminds me very much of another that was developed rather suddenly in Oregon some months ago. There are some strong points of resemblance between them. The case to which I refer is that of Hipple Mitchell. In that case, as in this, a gentleman prominent in politics came to Oregon under an assumed character. In that case, as in this, the chief actor was a former member of the Medical Faculty of Willamette University, and signed a false name to the diplomas of the graduates. In that case, as in this, the accused published a plain statement of facts, and asked the people to suspend their judgment. In that case, as in this, the fraud was proved beyond a doubt. But I don't want the parallel to be carried any further. In that case the impostor succeeded in getting a high office, but I am not willing that this one should be equally lucky. Indeed, if the facts are as they seem to be, Dawne is not as worthy of consideration as Mitchell, for this fraud is far more contemptible and inexcusable than that with which Mitchell was charged.

I have not space to comment now upon the "vindications" of Dr. Dawne published by Judge Thornton and the unknown gentleman from Arkansas. I will speak of them in a future communication.

THE TERRITORIES.

A movement is on foot to provide a library of books for the use of the prisoners in the Thurston county jail, W. T.

The New Mexican is informed that the San Cristobal grant of nearly 10,000 acres has been sold to Mr. S. H. [illegible]laughlin, of San Francisco, California.

Col. I. R. Wood, of Springfield, Dakota, has concluded to go west. He has been appointed Collector at Ounalaska, Aleutian Islands, 1,800 miles west of Sitka, Alaska.

A Colorado paper says that men out there will ride 10 miles to spark a girl Sunday night, but the women out there will ride double that distance to see a man hung.

Santa Fe claims to be the very oldest settlement in the United States, and presents facts to show that she is older than San Augustine, Florida, which makes similar pretensions.

Two wings of the Republican party of Dakota have united in a call for a Territorial Convention to nominate delegates and Territorial officers, to be held at Elk Point, July 16th.

On Tuesday last a native of New Granada got two of his fingers severely cut by the edger saw at Port Madison. He was taken to Dr. Alverson, who deemed it necessary to amputate them.

The Waitsburg and Dayton circuits will hold a union camp-meeting on the Touchet, about half way between Waitsburg and Dayton, near Harvey Bateman's place, commencing June 15th, 1874.

The Central [illegible] says of our mines: In Utah everything is looking up; mines are being opened and machinery erected with more industry and enterprise. This Territory contains some of the richest mines on this coast, and is destined to be one of the leading bullion producing sections of this continent. All eyes are being directed to it, and a large amount of capital is drifting in that direction.

Mrs. Woodhull lectured at Salt Lake recently. The Tribune only had the following notice next morning: To the credit of our military and our Federal officers, we are pleased to report that they were very lightly represented at the disgraceful Woodhull lecture. The lecture, "Naked Truth without an Apron," is said to have been vulgar enough to bring a blush to the cheek of a Mormon priest.

A correspondent, writing from Falls City, informs the Seattle Intelligencer that there is considerable excitement in that locality at the present time on account of the proprietors of the Snoqualmie [illegible] Hotel, [illegible] gentleman from Kansas, who has [illegible] his family and thirteen other families [illegible] settle in that place. Our correspondent further says that the second term of school commenced on the 11th inst., that they have a fine schoolhouse, and would like some of our ministers to pay the place a visit and see what good they can do.

An election for officers of the Mormon Church took place at Salt Lake last week. The Tribune says: Brigham Young was again sustained as Prophet, Seer and Revelator, and President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, by a unanimous vote. Brothers Smith and Wells were degraded from the co-joint prophetship and revelatorship, and were installed as first and second counselors of the great Head Center. George A. Smith was elected to the Trustee-in-Trustship. A. Carrington was raised to the apostolic dignity, and Orson Pratt made Church historian, with the dunderhead Wilford Woodruff for assistant.

There will be a camp meeting at Rock Creck camp ground, commencing June 5th, and continuing over two Sabbaths. The ground is four miles east of Hubbard station.

The hoodlums of Salem have stolen the Joss of the Chinese, and now there is weeping, gnashing of teeth and some good "Melican" swearing among the pig tail fraternity.

PUBLIC OPINION.

Charles Sumner's vignette is being engraved to go on a shinplaster. Something like naming your dog after your grandfather.—Springfield Republican (Ind.)

If President Grant must have a Secretary of the Treasury from Pennsylvania, why don't he take a live man like J. A. Scott, with a head full of brains? He is worth a dozen of the clan Cameron.—Pittsburgh Post (Dem.)

Many of the postmasters who were in favor of the Finance bill on its first second thought have concluded that the true principles of finance consist in agreeing with Grant and keeping the postoffice.—Des Moines Leader (Ind.)

There cannot be the slightest doubt that but for the continual expectation of Federal support in such as Kellogg received in Louisiana, Arkansas would now be a quiet State. That precedent produced the present war. The Grant chicken hatched by brother-in-law Casey has come home to roost.—Portland (Me.) Argus (Dem.)

Popular sentiment, irrespective of former political affiliations, will eventually—it may not be this year, it may not be the next—crystallize around certain vital points, and when that process is complete the old parties will find their places shelved and their places filled by young and vigorous combatants born of present needs and hampered by none of the hereditary errors and animosities which belong to the buried past.—St. Louis Republican (Ind.)

The Treasury is the most important by far of all the departments in the scope of its operations, their relation to the business interests of the country and the number of persons employed in it. It needs at its head not only a man with sounder notions of finance than have prevailed there for some years back, but with stricter ideas of official responsibility and a somewhat different estimate of the qualities required in subordinates, and of the duties to be performed by them.—Brooklyn Eagle (Rep.)

HAZING.

EIGHTY-ONE STUDENTS SUSPENDED BY THE UNIVERSITY FACULTY.

[Special dispatch to the Chicago Tribune.]

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 4.—The faculty of the University, after a five hours meeting, this evening suspended thirty nine sophomores and forty-two freshmen for the same offense for which the six men were suspended last week. On account of the limited mean and mature age of most the young men the suspension continues only until September, when they will be received back on condition of passing the usual examinations and signing a written assurance that they will hereafter abstain from hazing and interference in the government of the University, the presentation of their petition being considered an interference. The lightness of the punishment is approved of by all, although regrets are expressed that under the circumstances any was considered necessary.

WHITE TURTLES AND FROGS.—The Des Moines (Iowa) Register asks its readers: Did you ever see a white mud-turtle, white frogs, white tadpoles and other unusual amphibious animals bleached out to Anglo Saxon complexion? If not you can see this curiosity by taking a walk to the paper mill. The water in which the straw is boiled runs off into a pond connected with Coon river. All the animals boarding in this pond have had their color changed to a perfect white. They look as if they had been whitewashed. This chemical change probably results from the properties in the water, although that is of a yellowish cast, and lighter than the straw boiled in it.

PLATFORM.

Resolved, 1. That the compensation of Clerk and Sheriff of this county should be fixed salaries, not exceeding for the Sheriff $[illegible] and for the Clerk $[illegible] per year; that the law allowing fees to these officers taxable against the county should be repealed, and their other fees should be reduced to the rates allowed under the law of 1862, such fees to be collected by the respective officers and paid into the County Treasury; that each of the officers should be allowed such number of deputies as the County Court, consisting of the Judge and Commissioners, should determine to be necessary, and such deputies should be paid out of the County Treasury salaries not exceeding $100 per month each.

2. That there is no necessity for more than one Assessor, Treasurer, [Tax Collector], for the city and county, and the duties of each of these officers could be performed quite as well and more economically by a single officer for both city and county, the compensation and duties to be apportioned between the city and county according to a fair estimate of the work required by each.

3. That the appropriation out of the County Treasury of money as salaries for jailor and janitor is in violation of law and a disregard of the interests of the people of Multnomah county, and the candidates named by this Committee for Judge and Commissioners are pledged, if elected, to discontinue such appropriations as well as all others not necessary in the administration of county affairs.

4. That the charter of Portland should be so amended as to make the Board of Police Commissioners to consist of the Mayor of the city, who should be the President of the Board, and two Commissioners appointed by the Governor and the Common Council should have power to fix the number of police officers by ordinance.

5. That we heartily approve of the exertions of our delegation in Congress in behalf of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake railroad; that we regard the building of said road as essential to the development of this city and State, and the candidates named by this Committee for the Legislature are instructed to secure, if possible, such legislation as shall give the right of way for said road through this State, and to endeavor to secure the adoption of a memorial asking Congress to aid said road.

6. That there should be passed an efficient law providing for the registration of voters to prevent frauds in elections.

7. That the candidates named by this Committee for the Legislature are pledged to endeavor, if elected, to secure legislation in accordance with these resolutions, and to exercise and demand the most rigid economy in all departments of the public service, and to reduce taxation in every practicable way.

A FRESH INSTALLMENT ON THE LOCKS QUESTION

The Bulletin has got Locks on the brain. The columns of that paper contain little else besides gong beating about the purchase of the Locks. One would suppose from reading the Bulletin that the purchase of the Locks was actually contemplated by somebody and that the utmost vigilance and energy were necessary to prevent the consummation of the scheme.

This is the silliest kind of nonsense. Every State Convention that has met this year with the exception of the Temperance Convention that nominated Tolman for Governor has declared against this project. Nobody contemplates any such thing. And we have no information that the Company themselves are still desirous of making the sale. For aught that appears they may have changed their minds as radically as Mr H W Scott who was lobbying for the bill at the last Legislature, or J H Mitchell who was lobbying for it, or J B Congle who worked and voted for it or Ben Simpson who introduced it and was its manager and champion or Richard Williams who was an active lobbyist for it. All these people are now active members of the ring, and are the authors of this hue and cry about the Locks and the first named of them is the "associated editorship" of the Bulletin. If the antecedents of men are to go for anything we should think the greatest danger of the passage of a bill for the purchase of the Locks is to be apprehended from the election of a Ring Republican Legislature. But the fact is that all this fussing and fuming on the Lock question is arrant demagoguery, founded in falsehood and intended simply to divert the attention of the public from the damaging record of the ring upon matters wherein reform is urgently demanded.

And while we are on this Lock question we beg leave to propound a question or two to Mr Sol Hirsch, Ring candidate for Senator, which we hope he will consider it worth his while to answer categorically.

First—Did you, Mr Hirsch, offer to vote for the Lock bill in the last Legislature for a consideration? and, if so, what was that consideration?

Second—Did you offer to refrain from voting on the bill at all, for a consideration? and if so what was that consideration?

MATTERS IN CLATSOP

On a visit to Astoria Wednesday evening, we were much pleased to observe that that town is more than usually lively in a business way. The shipping has greatly increased during the past year and the fishery interests are far greater this season than ever before.

We conversed with quite a number of gentlemen there in regard to political affairs, and all expressed the opinion that the Independent State ticket will receive a very considerable support in that county, and that Shattuck and Thompson will carry the county for Judge and Prosecuting Attorney by a handsome majority.

There are four (at least) county tickets in the field—two independent and the two straighout party tickets—but they are so made up of each other, so many of the candidates of one ticket are candidates on one or more of the others, that it is not strictly true that any ticket can be considered a party ticket. Mr Joseph Jeffers is nominated for Representative by all hands and Col Spedden and W H Twilight are named for Clerk and Sheriff, respectively, by both the Republicans and the Independents. This, if we do not mistake, is the case with some other of the candidates on the so called party tickets. So its practically all Independent, and the people are going to scratch and choose with regard to fitness rather than with regard to political antecedents. All the tickets appear to have been selected with a good deal of care, and Clatsop county is sure to have good officers for the next term.

AN EXCELLENT TICKET

Pursuant to a call of the Independent voters of Columbia county a convention was held at Rainier on Wednesday, the 20th instant, and the following ticket was placed in nomination:

For Representative—J S Rinearson
County Judge—Dean Blanchard
Sheriff—G W Maxwell
Clerk—Geo F Moeck
Treasurer—F A Fowler
Assessor—E J Ford
School Superintendent—John E Galbreath
Coroner—John Gunn

This is a splendid ticket if the whole of it is on a par with those nominees with whom we have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance. Major Rinearson needs no introduction to the people. He is one of Oregon's pioneer citizens and is known extensively in the State. His election would do honor to Columbia county and secure the services of an able and efficient representative in the Legislature.

For County Judge the most important office to the tax payers of all that are to be filled, the Convention exercised great judgment in the selection of Dean Blanchard, one of the most distinguished citizens of the county and the one to have the oversight of the affairs of the county.

The other candidates are we are informed gentlemen who enjoy the esteem of the people of their county and are in every way qualified for the respective offices for which they have been named. We congratulate our fellow citizens of Columbia county upon the prospect of electing so good a ticket.

Several months since the Chicago Times published a long story purporting to be a narrative of the intrigues of Ann Eliza nineteenth spouse of Brigham Young. The article obtained very general circulation although some of the details were not the chastest specimens of literature. Ann Eliza seems to have understood this and she has accordingly brought suit against the Times for defamation of character.

The amendment to the Postal Law which the House Committee on Postoffices and Post-roads have agreed to recommend for passage will require the prepayment of postage on newspapers and all other printed matter, by the pound. The rate will be two cents per pound for newspapers and periodicals mailed regularly by publishers.

HOW LONG O LORD! HOW LONG?

We do not know nor can we conjecture what the people of Oregon have done that they should deserve such visitations as have befallen them during the present political campaign. They have always been a peace loving, law abiding people. Their government is good; [illegible] of the time has been administered with prudence and economy. They have feared God and honored the [illegible]. In all these respects they have merited the good name they bear abroad. And yet there is not in the whole Union a State—save wretched Arkansas and the carpet bag God Smith—which has suffered as much and patiently endured as much from men of [illegible] and scurvier morals. By some inscrutable providence Hipple was sent upon us reeking with crime and filthy with all manner of moral corruption. He debauched our politics tainted our legislature and brought low the dignity of the bench. He brought shame and ignominy upon a great and noble party and when he went down before the crushing rebuke of an indignant people he involved in his own wreck the ruin of others who had it not been for his foul example might have been decent and honorable to-day.

And then Tolman. It is difficult to believe that Infinite Wisdom had anything to do with this infliction. On Ben Simpson and the Darwinian theory rests all the blame. Tolman too, is an inexcusable fraud on intelligent manhood.

And now what has Dr I J Dawne to say why similar sentence should not be pronounced on him? We have been restrained from assailing this stranger within our gates partly because since taking up his residence in Oregon Mr Dawne has, so far as we know, obeyed the law and given to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's! But how about the remainder of the commandment? This is the inquiry suggested by "Timbuctoo" in a letter elsewhere published. Of all the charges alleged against the Democratic candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, the most serious by far is the charge that he has attempted to impose himself upon a large and intelligent community as a professor of medicine a physician and graduate of a respectable college when in truth he is neither professor, physician nor graduate. "Dr" Dawne stands accused of a very grave offense, and certainly no reasonable man will dispute for a moment that as the case now stands his accusers have proven him a charlatan, an impostor a quack. Judging from the tone of his defense, (published in the OREGONIAN of the 14th inst) is it at all likely that Dr Dawne will ever establish his innocence? We think not because that defense is evasive, has no bearing on any material part of the indictment presented by "Timbuctoo." Whatever else may be said, it must be confessed even by his advocates that "Dr" Dawne's conduct in this affair has not been that of a high-toned, Christian gentleman. When his character had been impeached, his veracity called in question and his social standing jeopardized, why did he not give the most effective denial possible? Certainly he must have known that the people of Oregon would not accept a certificate of good behavior merely attested by a convocation of preachers in Arkansas as evidence that he was a graduate of the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana. And then "Dr" Dawne ornaments his name with the honorary title Master of Arts but he has long since abandoned the effort to prove that he came honestly by that title.

So neither the lugubrious certificate of Mr Thornton nor the gratuitous testimonial of the anonymous "Arkansas Traveler" will avail anything against the pointed charges of "Timbuctoo" supported by the evidence of the Dean of the Medical Department of the University of Louisiana. The "floodgates" have opened on "Dr" Dawne. If he has any regard for himself or pride in his party he would do well to stand aside. We fear that he has by his own misguided ambition taken rank as the third in the triumvirate of "ne'er do weels" Hipple—Tolman—Dawne! How long O Lord, how long?

THE NEW YORK ELECTION

Our New York exchanges predict that the November election in that State will be a very close fight. The Liberal Republican leaders have just held a conference at which they concluded to keep their party intact. Tammany is divided into two wings—the bruisers headed by John Morrissey and John Kelly and their physical inferiors. The latter have dubbed themselves "the party of brains" and their opponents the party of muscle. The recent unpleasantness between John Morrissey and Senator John Fox an account of which will be found in another column has opened a wide breach, the adherents of the respective combatants being numerous and powerful. The "Independent Democracy" is an offshoot of the ancient remnants [illegible] and a powerful opposition to Tammany is in process of organization.

The prominent candidates for Governor are Justice Wm F Allen of the Court of Appeals, Samuel Tilden a popular Democrat of New York city and General John A Dix the present Governor. Horatio Seymour has written a letter in which he informs his friends that he will not under any consideration consent to become a candidate for Governor or any other office. He says he has served his full term in public life and he desires now to be free from the retirement he has [illegible] himself. The probability of a split in the Tammany Democracy has led some of the shrewdest leaders of Liberal Republicanism to look to a union with that branch of Democracy opposed to the present party management. It is believed by many that with this coalition and the aid of the Grangers a new party can be formed which will [illegible] between the old parties and carry the State. The regular Republicans [illegible] this coalition and defeat Gov Dix. He is certainly an able and [illegible] Executive.

They [illegible] Scott [illegible] a runner for the Clarendon Hotel. If a correct judgment may be formed from the manner of his crying for his particular house. Of [illegible] the agents from coaches [illegible] wagon to and from the Clarendon Hotel this season now gents—shows the Custom House editor off to better advantage than any other role he has ever played. At least this is the opinion of a gentleman who has witnessed his performances in all the characters he has taken and who says he heard him at one of the steamers docks [illegible] evening. Dr Holland would say that Scott has at last found his sphere.

When Donn Piatt has commenced suit against Mortimer D Leggett Commissioner of Patents for libel. Leggett slandered him in an article published in the Zanesville [illegible] charging him [illegible] with blackmailing and with manufacturing what he knew to be false. We suppose that [illegible] what he knew to be true, [illegible] have [illegible] However this may be Donn Piatt wants $20,000 [illegible] for Scott Hipple [illegible] in the same court.

REGULAR MEETING

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 22, 1874

CITY.

CLANDESTINE MARRIAGE.—Some days ago a well known young lady who resides in Salem came down to this city and stopped with a family in East Portland. It seems that the young woman had been keeping company with a gentleman engaged in business at Salem for some time past and became engaged to him. The young gentleman although steady, industrious and in every particular worthy of her hand, did not meet with the favor of the stern parents, who rejected his matrimonial overtures, and put a veto on further proceedings. To break off the match the girl was sent to Portland, the intention being for her to take passage on the outgoing steamer to San Francisco. Parents propose, but lovers dispose. The two parties soon saw through the little scheme which was designed to separate them, and promptly resolved to come down with a trump on the game. This they did to the dismay and chagrin of the lady's parents. Early on Wednesday morning the young man took train and came down, and on the evening of the same day two loving hearts, this is not original, were indissolubly joined. The father learned too late of the marriage of his only and fairly idolized daughter and came off down post haste to Portland with all the vials of parental wrath fairly uncorked. But the couple could not be found, although diligent search was instituted. We understand that they are still in Portland, but take good care to keep out of the old gentleman's path until his vengeance shall subside. The young lady is said to be handsome and accomplished, and the idol of the household, and her marriage under the circumstances is a source of very great annoyance to the parents. However as the young husband is worthy of the prize he has secured by a little strategy, we can't see that any great harm has been done.

A HARDENED OLD SINNER.—Yesterday evening some of the crusaders visited the city jail, and asked permission to go inside the large cell to interview the inmates, which request was readily granted by the officer in charge of the jail. The ladies entered and informed their dilapidated auditors that they had come there on a mission of love, and to advise with them etc. etc. The prisoners signified their assent by remaining perfectly silent. One noted old rum guzzler, who rejoices in the appellation of "Paddy Bad Irish," assumed an indifferent attitude, and when approached and asked by one of the ladies if he would sign the temperance pledge replied, "No! I'll sign no pledge," I want some whisky. This somewhat perplexed the lady, but on resuming her expostulations if he did not want to go to Heaven when he died he replied, "I want to go where there is plenty of whisky and petaties." Our heroic lady had to give Paddy up as a hardened sinner.

BUYING HORSES.—Two gentlemen from Walla Walla reached this city a day or two ago coming to this valley for the purpose of buying cavalry horses to furnish the Government on a contract to supply 140 head. The contractor, as we are informed, purchased about 50 head in Walla Walla valley and was unable to secure any more at the price which he offered. But of the lot of 50 the agent of the Government only received two, deeming the others unfit for the service. The price at which the contract appears to have been taken seems rather low for the quality of animals to be furnished, and while there are plenty of such horses in this valley their purchase at owner's rates would entail a loss on the contractor.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.—This evening the Portland City Band will discourse the following programme of choice music, at the Plaza: Wide World March, Hess' Day When You'll Forget Me, Thomas; "Laura Waltzes," Piefke; "Popouri from Preciosa," Weber; Military Polka," Faust; "Furioso Galop," Barlow. Saturday evenings are the ones selected for playing at the Plaza, but in consequence of a prior engagement, which will render it impossible for the band to play tomorrow this evening has been chosen. Propitious weather is all that is required to attract hundreds.

ARRESTED AGAIN.—Walter Moffett was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued from Justice Crich's Court charging him with an assault. The complainant is Mrs W. B. Fain. The complaint accuses Mr. Moffett of having assaulted the prosecuting witness by violently pushing her off the sidewalk. Mrs Fain, it will be remembered, was one of the crusaders who visited Moffett's saloon. It was while she was there that the alleged assault was committed. Mr Moffett gave bonds for his appearance, and the case will come up for trial to-day in Crich's Court.

CHROMIC ACID.—Mr. J. H. Fisk, the assayist, has recently manufactured a small quantity of chromic acid from some pure chrome ore which was brought from Southern Oregon a short time since. This acid is of considerable commercial value being an indispensable commodity in the manufacture of chromes and is also extensively employed in coloring the matter used to print calicoes. The acid Mr. Fisk pronounces to be of superior quality. The ore in its pure state is found in exhaustless abundance near Roseburg and convenient to the line of railroad.

UNTRUE.—The Astorian says: Since our last issue an average of two steamers per day have arrived at Astoria from Portland, bringing grain from the warehouses of that city which are now being submerged by high water." There is no truth in the above assertion. Up to this writing the water does not cover the lower wharves where grain or merchandise is discharged. This is a sample of the many stories fabricated by the Astorian with the sole object of injuring the shipping interests of Portland. Grain is never stored on the lower wharves.

PRECINCT OFFICERS.—The following persons were nominated last Saturday for Justices of the Peace, in and for the following Precincts, by the Nominating Committee: Morrison—for Justice, Aaron Bushwiler; Constable, C. C. Perry. Madison—Justice, J. J. Garwood; Constable, —. North Portland—Justice, R. J. Bybee; Constable —. South Portland—Justice, Wm J. Wiggs; Constable, G. W. Holsapple. Couch—Justice, A. M. Snyder; Constable —. Western—No nominations were made.

SCHOONER SUPERIOR.—The schooner Superior, of the Star Line, sailed from San Francisco on the morning of the 1—th, crossed the bar at daylight Wednesday, arrived at Astoria and discharged tin and hardware for a firm there, and boats for the fisheries. She arrived here at 2 P. M. yesterday, in tow of the tug Merrimac. Her cargo consists of wagons, machinery and marble slabs for the floors of the new Custom House. The Superior will have quick despatch for San Francisco.

PASSENGER LIST.—The steamer Ajax, which sailed last evening carried away the following passengers: J. D. Elgar and wife, Mrs J. I. Rogers, T. H. McCann, J. K. Hartney, Emil Zeifuels, B. Hewmar, M. Kimball, T. Whitler, Edward Sykes, Mr. Hattersley, Carl ... Spotts, Fred Eli, Mrs Brittell and child, O. P. Barnes, J. H. Cole, Henry ... Lakin, W. F. & Co's messenger and 15 in the steerage.

APPOINTED.—Mr. O. I... has recently received the appointment of ... for the State of Oregon of the Order of Knights of Pythias, by the Supreme Chancellor of the World, vice M. P. Berry, resigned.

LADIES' MEETING.—The Union Temperance meeting in the Taylor Street M. E. Church this evening at 7:30 will be conducted by the Ladies' League. Everybody is invited.

AMUSEMENTS.

Madame Pueps and company have arrived and will give their first entertainment at Oro Fino Theater on Saturday evening. The company have just closed a successful season on the Sound. The list of members and programme is announced in the advertising columns. We shall speak more at length of the troupe in our next issue.

Resolved, That until otherwise provided by the Grand Lodge of the United States, the present relations of the subordinate Lodges of Washington and Idaho Territories ... legal and de facto to this Grand Lodge be continued.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Grand Lodge then proceeded to the nomination and election of officers for the ensuing year with the following result: H. G. Struve, Grand Master; J. M. Gatch, Deputy Grand Master; J. N. Dolph, Grand Warden; John M. Bacon, Grand Secretary; J. R. Moores, Grand Treasurer; Joseph Buchtel, Grand Representative for two years; W. J. Snodgrass, Grand Representative for one year.

The following resolution was then offered by Past Grand Master T. J. Bloomfield and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Right Worthy Grand Secretary be and is hereby instructed to procure a photograph of Past Grand Secretary Chester N. Terry, life size, and finish to correspond with those of the Past Grand Masters, the same to be paid for by the Grand Lodge.

There being no further business the Grand Master declared the Grand Lodge adjourned.

A HANDSOME TESTIMONIAL.

CHESTER N. TERRY, RETIRING GRAND SECRETARY, PRESENTED WITH AN ELEGANT CANE BY THE MEMBERS OF THE GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.

Yesterday afternoon, immediately following the election of Grand officers and prior to the adjournment of the Grand Lodge, Past Grand J. N. Dolph advanced to the table occupied by the retiring Grand Secretary, Chester N. Terry, and presented him with an elegant gold headed cane. Mr. Dolph made the following appropriate presentation remark:

P. G. Grand Secretary Terry.—On behalf of the members of the Grand Lodge, I take pleasure in presenting to you this appropriate token of their appreciation of your faithful services as R. W. Grand Secretary of the R. W. Grand Lodge of Oregon for the last seventeen years and the high esteem in which they hold you as an Odd Fellow and a man. It was with feelings of deep regret that they learned of your determination to resign the trust so long confided to your keeping and so faithfully and so well executed by you. Your name is indissolubly linked with the history of the rise and progress of Odd Fellowship in this State, and your labors have contributed in no small degree to produce the rapid increase and present prosperity of the Order in this jurisdiction. By patient application and devotion to the laborious duties of the position you have so long filled with credit to yourself and the Order you have left your impress upon your age and generation, reared for yourself a monument more enduring than marble—as enduring as the history of your times. It cannot fail to be a source of gratification to you to whom the early struggles of the Order in this jurisdiction are so well known to review the past and contrast it with the present condition of the Order, to know that the principles of our Fraternity, Friendship, Love and Truth, which united the hearts and ... and labors of the little few who bore the burdens and heat of the day in the infancy of Odd Fellowship in this State, still shine with undiminished lustre in the practical working of our Order in its days of numerical and financial prosperity. I assure you that upon retiring from the position you have so long occupied the Brethren of the Grand Lodge heartily wish for your future success and happiness, the hope expressed by you in your report at the present communication of the Grand Lodge that from year to year you might be so situated as to be present at each of our annual communications, to keep up the social reunions that have been so pleasant in the past, is fully reciprocated by them. They hope and believe also that your ardor for the good of the Order will not abate, but that you will remain vigilant to defend our cherished institution from the assaults of its enemies without and from dissensions within, that we may still have the aid of your counsel, the benefit of your experience and the encouragement of your sympathy, that your ears will ever be open to the cries of the suffering and needy and your hand ever open to supply their necessities. That you will continue to merit and receive the confidence of the Brethren and that while you minister to others friendship and material aid you may receive back in the fraternal regard, sympathy and esteem of your Brethren and the prayers of the widow and orphan in this life more than recompense, and in the life to come be welcomed to the Grand Lodge above by the Grand Master of the Universe. Reminding you that this gift of the Brethren is not intended as a reward for duty performed ... and believing that ... it will be more prized by you than if ... without such a ... I present to you this merited testimonial from your Brethren. You will see it is a beautiful cane, ornamented with gold and ornamented with the emblems of the Order. Upon one side is engraved "To C. N. Terry," and upon the reverse side "For seventeen years faithful services as Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Oregon." As you lean upon this staff down life's decline, and as year after year you shall see the institution of Odd Fellowship which you aided to plant in this jurisdiction take firmer root, shoot out new branches, gather under its benignant shade new members and yield in perennial freshness its fruit of charity and fraternal assistance in ever increasing abundance may this memento be more prized by you each year, as it shall link by its associations the present and the past with the fruition of the glorious hopes that line the sky of our expanding future.

RESPONSE.

Although the surprise was complete the recipient soon recovered his self possession and responded as follows:

Officers and Representatives of the Grand Lodge of Oregon.—I am unable to express my grateful thanks for the elegant and superb present which you have presented to me on this occasion, and the kind and heartfelt expressions of fraternal affection which come with the gift. At your hands I receive it, and with all my heart I thank you for it. I feel ... confidence and esteem ... during these ... years ... endeavored to do my duty to our noble Order ... the position I have ... I have ... ever ... in grateful remembrance ... I have received at your hands, and while life lasts I shall ever be found ... my heart and will ... Brothers I once more thank you for the ... gift ... and when we in the ... with our labors in this world may we all meet in the Grand Lodge above in peace and joy.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

DECISION OF JUDGE UPTON IN APPLICATION FOR A WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS IN THE CASE OF STATE VS. J. W. CARROLL.

The following is the decision of Judge Upton at Chambers, rendered yesterday, upon application for a writ Habeas Corpus in the case of State vs. J. W. Carroll, charged with having broken a glass at Moffett's saloon, and who was tried before Justice Crich and held to answer in the sum of $500, and in default committed to jail, to the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah county. J. W. Carroll, plaintiff vs. J. M. Caw, Sheriff, etc.:

The petitioner was charged with maliciously injuring property, and upon an examination was held to answer and committed. He sued out a writ of habeas corpus and a writ of certiorari or review claiming that the examining magistrate had proceeded illegally and that the warrant of arrest and the commitment were void.

Upon the ... I rendered the following decision: The petitioner having been committed to answer on a charge which is made felony by the statute asks for a review of the proceedings of the examining magistrate and for his discharge on the following grounds:

2d. That neither the informant nor any other witness was examined before the warrant issued.

3d. That the order made by the magistrate holding the petitioner to answer does not find or show that a crime has been committed.

4th. That the commitment does not designate any crime.

The objection to the commitment, namely that it does not show that the property injured was personal property, nor describe the property, nor name the owner, is not of itself a sufficient ground for discharging the petitioner without looking into the record to see whether he was legally held to answer. It is the practice where cases are brought before the court on habeas corpus without producing the record to refuse to discharge for a mere defect in the form of the commitment. Hurd on habeas corpus, p. 350. And where the record is produced, if the commitment is defective, and the record discloses that a magistrate having jurisdiction has made an order holding the defendant to bail, the court issuing the writ of habeas corpus will issue a sufficient commitment and remand the petitioner into custody. It will therefore be necessary in this case to examine the questions raised by the writ of review. The written complaint filed with the magistrate was filed April 9, 1874, and it charges the acts set forth as constituting the crime to have been committed on the 16th of the same month. I do not deem it a material question whether the written complaint filed before a warrant was issued complies with the statute regulating the trial of criminal causes in Justices' Court.

Trials of misdemeanors in Justices' Courts are regulated by provisions entirely distinct from those that prescribe the mode of proceedings in examinations on charge of felony. In proceedings on examination the law does not require the complaint to be in writing. And where application is made for a warrant under § — of the Code, the complaint spoken of is not a written instrument like that required to be filed in a Justice Court under section 71, p. 598 of the Code. The complaint referred to in section 11 is made to a magistrate, and there upon the informant is sworn as a witness and examined on oath and his statement reduced to writing. The statement thus obtained by examination is evidence upon which, or from which, the magistrate is called upon to decide whether a crime has been committed. It is a statement entirely different in its form and nature from the formal charge mentioned in section 79 of the Justice Act.

The latter is to be deemed an indictment and should contain a concise statement of the acts constituting the offense; the former is a narration of the facts and circumstances within the knowledge of the witness tending to prove the charge. The one is filed as a pleading in a cause about to proceed to final judgment, the other is taken as proofs in a cause where no issue is being proven and in a court that has not the power to render a final judgment, and an affidavit in the form of a complaint is not a substitute for such statement and is not required by the statute as preliminary to taking the statement. It was accordingly held by the Supreme Court in case of the State v. Wells et al, September term 1873, that the complaint that precedes the examination of the complainant, where a felony is charged, need not be in writing. § 340 has been thought to have some bearing on this question. It reads as follows:

An information is the allegation or statement made before a magistrate and verified by the oath of a party making it that a person has been guilty of some designated crime. The word information is not used in any of the sections that point out the mode of proceeding, and since a bare allegation that a person has been guilty of some designated crime is evidently not what is alluded to in the Justices' Act as a complaint, I am unable to see what bearing this definition has on the question under consideration.

Under sec. 9 of the Justice Act in cases where a trial in a Justice's Court is contemplated and the record of a final judgment is to be made up, which may be a bar to a future action, it is important that the acts constituting the crime should be stated in writing at the commencement of the trial in order that the final record of which the complaint is a part may be definite and certain. Hence that section requires that the action in that class of cases shall be commenced by filing a complaint therein. The complaint in cases triable before a Justice of the Peace charges only a misdemeanor and the magistrate issues a warrant without examining witnesses as to the truth of the matters charged. But where a person is charged with felony the law requires the magistrate before issuing a warrant to examine the informant on oath and reduce his statement to writing, and it is undoubtedly the intent of this statute to prohibit the issuing of warrants of arrest in cases of felony on mere affidavits. By directing the magistrate to examine the informant on oath as a witness and to pass judicially on the evidence elicited and by prohibiting him from issuing a warrant unless the evidence is sufficient to satisfy him that a crime has been committed he is clothed with a power by which he can guard the public against the expense of trifling causes and causes instituted without probable cause and can guard individuals from the annoyance of arrest on false or mistaken charges of felony. I consider the law settled that on charges of felony the magistrate has no jurisdiction to issue a warrant upon a mere affidavit like the paper which was filed in this case ... and that the Court ... the person of the defendant ... the arrest ... the warrant ... without any examination of the informant or any other witness. But the petitioner ... applied for the writ of habeas corpus ... entered into an undertaking and on a subsequent day went before the magistrate and submitted to an examination.

PICNICS.

The Library and Christian Doctrine Society at a special meeting held in their hall last Sunday resolved to make special arrangements to give a grand picnic. The time and place have not yet been decided.

Arrangements have been completed for the Unitarian Sunday School to give their picnic on Ross' Island to-morrow. The grounds are ... admirably adapted for the purpose. In case the weather should prove unfavorable on Saturday ... the children and their friends will assemble at the ... and Yamhill streets preparatory to leaving for the Island at 9 o'clock. Should the day seem likely ... the picnic ... will appear in ... evening paper which will ... the children with their friends and the ... generally are cordially invited to participate in the event.

Owing to the unpleasant state of the weather last evening, many feared an idea that the Methodist Sunday School excursion picnic would not take place to-day. The Committee of Arrangements will cause the church bell to be rung at 6 o'clock A. M., should they deem it proper to start on the trip. Arrangements have been made with the railroad company to stop the train at the I street crossing in East Portland and those wishing to get aboard at that point will be at the Stark street ferry at 7:40 A. M. precisely. Tickets can be procured of the committee at the church or the ... at the cars. In case of rain after reaching Aurora the excursionists will find ample shelter in that place. We trust the weather will be pleasant, the attendance large, and that all will have a general good time.

CITY.

CLANDESTINELY MARRIED.—Some days ago a well known young lady who resides in Salem came down to this city and stopped with a family in East Portland. It seems that the young woman had been keeping company with a gentleman engaged in business at Salem for some time past, and he one engaged to him. The young gentleman although steady, industrious and in every particular worthy of his betrothed did not meet with the favor of the lady's parents who rejected his matrimonial overtures and put a veto on further proceedings. To break off the match the girl was sent to Portland the intention being for her to take passage on the outgoing steamer to San Francisco. Parents propose but lovers dispose. The two parties soon saw through the little scheme which was designed to separate them and promptly resolved to come down with a trump on the game. This they did to the dismay and chagrin of the lady's parents. Early on Wednesday morning the young man took train and came down and on the evening of the same day two loving hearts (this is not original) were indissolubly joined. The father learned too late of the marriage of his only and fairly idolized daughter and came off down post haste to Portland with all the vials of parental wrath fully uncorked. But the couple could not be found although diligent search was instituted. We understand that they are still in Portland but take good care to keep out of the old gentleman's path until his vengeance shall subside. The young lady is said to be handsome and accomplished and the idol of the household and her marriage under the circumstances is a source of very great annoyance to the parents. However as the young husband is worthy of the prize he has secured by a little strategy, we can't see that any great harm has been done.

A HARDENED OLD SINNER.—Yesterday evening some of the crusaders visited the city jail, and asked permission to go inside the large cell to interview the inmates, which request was readily granted by the officer in charge of the jail. The ladies entered and informed their dilapidated auditors that they had come there on a mission of love and to advise with them etc etc. The prisoners signified their assent by remaining perfectly silent. One noted old rum guzzler who rejoices in the appellation of "Paddy Bad Irish" assumed an indifferent attitude and when approached and asked by one of the ladies if he would sign the temperance pledge replied "No I'll sign no pledge, I want some whisky." This somewhat perplexed the lady but on resuming her expostulations if he did not want to go to Heaven, when he died he replied "I want to go where there is plenty of fishky and petaties." Our heroic lady had to give Paddy up as a hardened sinner.

BUYING HORSES.—Two gentlemen from Walla Walla reached this city a day or two ago coming to this valley for the purpose of buying cavalry horses to furnish the Government on a contract to supply 140 head. The contractor as we are informed, purchased about 50 head in Walla Walla valley and was unable to secure any more at the price which he offered. But of the lot of 50 the agent of the Government only received two deciding the others unfit for the service. The price at which the contract appears to have been taken seems rather low for the quality of animals to be furnished and while there are plenty of such horses in this valley their purchase at owners' rates would entail a loss on the contractor.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME.—This evening the Portland City Band will discourse the following programme of choice music, at the Plaza: "Wide World March" Hess, "Day When You'll Forget Me," Thomas, "Laura Waltzes" Tiefke, "Popourri from Preciosa," Weber, "Military Polka" Faust, "Furioso Galop" Barlow. Saturday evenings are the ones selected for playing at the Plaza, but in consequence of a prior engagement, which will render it impossible for the band to play tomorrow, this evening has been chosen. Propitious weather is all that is required to attract hundreds.

ARRESTED AGAIN.—Walter Moffett was arrested yesterday on a warrant issued from Justice Crich's Court charging him with an assault. The complainant is Mrs W H Fain. The complaint accuses Mr Moffett of having assaulted the prosecuting witness by violently pushing her off the sidewalk. Mrs. Fain, it will be remembered, was one of the crusaders who visited Moffett's saloon. It was while she was there that the alleged assault was committed. Mr Moffett gave bonds for his appearance, and the case will come up for trial to-day in Crich's Court.

CHROMIC ACID.—Mr J H Fisk, the assayist, has recently manufactured a small quantity of chromic acid from some pure chrome ore which was brought from Southern Oregon a short time since. This acid is of considerable commercial value being an indispensable commodity in the manufacture of chromes, and is also extensively employed in coloring the matter used to print calicoes. The acid Mr Fisk pronounces to be of superior quality. The ore in its pure state is found in exhaustless abundance near Roseburg, and convenient to the line of railroad.

UNTRUE.—The Astorian says "Since our last issue an average of two steamers per day have arrived at Astoria from Portland, bringing grain from the warehouses of that city which are now being submerged by high water." There is no truth in the above assertion. Up to this writing the water does not cover the lower wharves where grain or merchandise is discharged. This is a sample of the many stories fabricated by the Astorian with the sole object of injuring the shipping interests of Portland. Grain is never stored on the lower wharves.

PRECINCT OFFICERS.—The following persons were nominated last Saturday for Justices of the Peace, in and for the following Precincts by the Nominating Committee: Morrison—for Justice, Aaron Bushwiler; Constable, C C Perry. Madison—Justice J J Garwood; Constable, ——. North Portland—Justice R I Bybee; Constable, ——. South Portland—Justice, Wm J Wiggs; Constable G W Holsapple. Couch—Justice A M Snyder; Constable ——. Western—No nominations were made.

SCHOONER SUPERIOR.—The schooner Superior of the Star Line, sailed from San Francisco on the morning of the 13th, crossed the bar at daylight Wednesday arrived at Astoria and discharged tin and hardware for a firm there, and boats for the fisheries. She arrived here at 2 P M yesterday in tow of the tug Merrimac. Her cargo consists of wagons, machinery and marble slabs for the floors of the new Custom House. The Superior will have quick dispatch for San Francisco.

PASSENGER LIST.—The steamer Ajax which sailed last evening carried away the following passengers: J D Edgar and wife, Mrs I P Rogers, T H McCann, I R Hartney, Emil Zenfuchs, B Henman, M Kimball, I Wheeler, Edward Sykes, Mr Hattersley, Cornelius Spotts, Fred Ellis, Mrs Brittell and children, O P Barnes, J H Carter, Henry Voltz, Ed Lakin, W T & Co's [illegible] and 10 in the steerage.

A HANDSOME TESTIMONIAL.

CHESTER N. TERRY, RETIRING GRAND SECRETARY PRESENTED WITH AN ELEGANT CANE BY THE MEMBERS OF THE GRAND LODGE I O O F

Yesterday afternoon, immediately following the election of Grand officers, and prior to the adjournment of the Grand Lodge, Past Grand J N Dolph advanced to the table occupied by the retiring Grand Secretary Chester N Terry, and presented him with an elegant gold headed cane. Mr. Dolph made the following appropriate presentation remarks:

R W Grand Secretary Terry.—On behalf of the members of the Grand Lodge I take pleasure in presenting to you this appropriate token of their appreciation of your faithful services as R W Grand Secretary of the R W Grand Lodge of Oregon for the last seventeen years and the high esteem in which they hold you as an Odd Fellow and a man. It was with feelings of deep regret that they learned of your determination to resign the trust so long confided to your keeping and so faithfully and so well executed by you. Your name is indissolubly linked with the history of the rise and progress of Odd Fellowship in this State and your labors have contributed in no small degree to produce the rapid increase and present prosperity of the Order in this jurisdiction. By patient application and devotion to the laborious duties of the position you have so long filled with credit to yourself and the Order you have left your impress upon your age and generation reared for yourself a monument more enduring than marble—as enduring as the history of our times. It cannot fail to be a source of gratification to you to whom the early struggles of the Order in this jurisdiction are so well known to review the past and contrast it with the present condition of the Order to know that the principles of our Fraternity Friendship Love and Truth which united the hearts sentiments and labors of the little few who bore the burdens and heat of the day in the infancy of Odd Fellowship in this State still shine with undiminished lustre in the practical working of our Order in its days of numerical and financial prosperity. I assure you that upon retiring from the position you have so long occupied the Brethren of the Grand Lodge heartily wish for your future success and happiness the hope expressed by you in your report at the present communication of the Grand Lodge that from year to year you might be so situated as to be present at each of our annual communications to keep up the social reunions that have been so pleasant in the past is fully reciprocated by them. They hope and believe also that your ardor for the good of the Order will not abate but that you will remain vigilant to defend our cherished institution from the assault of its enemies without and from dissensions within that we may still have the aid of your counsel the benefit of your experience and the encouragement of your sympathy that your ears will ever be open to the cries of the suffering and needy and your hand ever open to supply their necessities. That you will continue to merit and receive the confidence of the Brethren and that while you minister to others friendship and material aid you may receive back in the fraternal regard sympathy and esteem of your Brethren and the prayers of the widow and orphan in this life more than recompense and in the life to come be welcomed to the Grand Lodge above by the Grand Master of the Universe. Reminding you that this gift of the Brethren is not intended as a reward for duty performed for that has no price and seeks no reward, and believing that accompanied as it is with the good will of your brethren it will be more prized by you than it studded with gems of rare beauty and inestimable value, without saying more I will present to you this merited testimonial from your brethren. As you will see it is a beautiful cane mounted with gold and ornamented with the emblems of the Order. Upon one side it is engraved "To C N Terry" and upon the reverse side "For seventeen years faithful services as Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Oregon." As you lean on this staff down life's decline and as year after year you shall see the institution of Odd Fellowship which you aided to plant in this jurisdiction take firmer root shoot out new branches gather under its benignant shade new members and yield in perennial freshness its fruits of charity and fraternal assistance in ever increasing abundance may this memento be more prized by you each year as it shall link by its associations the present and the past with the fruition of the glorious hopes that line the sky of our expanding future.

RESPONSE

Officers and Representatives in Grand Lodge Assembled.—I am unable to express my grateful thanks for the elegant and superb present which you have presented to me on this occasion and the kind and heartfelt expressions of fraternal affection which come with the gift. At your hands I receive it and with all my heart I thank you for it. I fear I believe from your expressions that I enjoy your confidence and esteem. I have during these long years endeavored to do my duty to your noble Order in the position I have so long held by your voice and if I have succeeded I am content. I shall ever hold in grateful remembrance the beautiful memento I have received at your hands, and while life lasts I shall ever be found battling for our noble fraternity. I [illegible] our Order and it sits near my heart and will so remain. Brothers I once more thank you for the beautiful gift and for your commendations and kindness and when we are through with our labors in this world may we all meet in the Grand Lodge above in peace and joy.

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

DECISION OF [illegible] IN THE CASE OF STATE VS I W CARROLL

The following is the decision of Judge Upton at Chambers yesterday on application for writ of habeas corpus in the case of State vs I W Carroll charged with having broken [illegible] at M [illegible] saloon and who was tried before Justice [illegible] and held to answer in the sum of $500 and in default committed to jail.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah County. I W Carroll petitioner vs. [illegible] M Caw Sheriff et al.

The petitioner was charged with [illegible] to property and upon an examination was held to answer in the manner [illegible] He [illegible] writ of habeas corpus [illegible] writ of review claiming that the examining magistrate had proceeded illegally and that the warrant of arrest and the commitment were void.

Upon [illegible] the following decision: The petitioner having been committed to answer on a charge which is made felony by the statute asks for a review of the proceedings of the examining magistrate and for his discharge on the following grounds:

1st. That the complaint filed with the magistrate before the warrant was issued charges no crime.

2d. That neither the informant nor any other witness was examined before the warrant issued.

3d. That the order made by the magistrate holding the petitioner to answer does not find or show that a crime has been committed.

4th. That the commitment does not designate any crime.

The objection to the commitment namely that it does not show that the property injured was personal property nor describe the property nor name the owner is not of itself a sufficient ground for discharging the petitioner without looking into the record to see whether he was legally held to answer. It is the practice where cases are brought before the court on habeas corpus without producing the record to refuse a discharge for a mere defect in the form of the commitment. Hurd on habeas corpus § 330. And where the record is produced if the commitment is defective and the record discloses that a magistrate having jurisdiction has made an order holding the defendant to bail the court issuing the writ of habeas corpus will issue a sufficient commitment and remand the petitioner into custody. It will therefore be necessary in this case to examine the questions raised by the writ of review. The written complaint filed with the magistrate was dated April 9 1874 and it charges the acts set forth as constituting the crime to have been committed on the 16th of the same month. I do not deem it a material question whether the written complaint filed before a warrant was issued, complies with the statute regulating the trial of criminal causes in Justices Courts.

Trials of misdemeanors in Justices Courts are regulated by provisions entirely distinct from those that prescribe the mode of proceedings in examinations on charge of felony. In proceedings on examination the law does not require the complaint to be in writing. And where application is made for a warrant under § 4[illegible] of the Code the complaint spoken of is not a written instrument like that required to be filed in a Justice Court under section 7[illegible] p 508 of the Code. The complaint referred to in section 3[illegible] is made to a magistrate and thereupon the informant is sworn as a witness and examined on oath and his statement reduced to writing. The statement thus obtained by examination is evidence upon which or from which the magistrate is called upon to decide whether a crime has been committed. It is a statement entirely different in its form and nature from the formal charge mentioned in section 79 of the Justice Act.

The latter is to be deemed an indictment and should contain a concise statement of the acts constituting the offense, the former is a narration of the facts and circumstances within the knowledge of the witness tending to prove the charge. The one is filed as a pleading in a cause about to proceed to final judgment, the other is taken as proofs in a cause where no issue is being proven and in a court that has not the power to render a final judgment and an affidavit in the form of a complaint is not a substitute for such statement and is not required by the statute as preliminary to taking the statement. It was accordingly held by the Supreme Court in case of the State v. Wells et al September term 1873 That the complaint that precedes, the examination of the complainant where a felony is charged need not be in writing. § 340 has been thought to have some bearing on this question, it reads as follows:

An information is the allegation or statement made before a magistrate, and verified by the oath of a party making it that a person has been guilty of some designated crime. The word information is not used in any of the sections that point out the mode of proceeding and since a bare allegation that a person has been guilty of some designated crime is evidently not what is alluded to in the justices act as a complaint I am unable to see what bearing the definition has on the question under consideration.

Under sec 79 of the justice act in cases where a trial in a Justices Court is contemplated and the record of a final judgment is to be made up which may be a bar to a future action, it is important that the acts constituting the crime should be stated in writing at the commencement of the trial in order that the final record of which the complaint is a part may be definite and certain. Hence that section requires that the action in that class of cases shall be commenced by filing a complaint therein. The complaint in cases triable before a Justice of the Peace charges only a misdemeanor and the magistrate issues a warrant without examining witnesses as to the truth of the matters charged. But where a person is charged with felony the law requires the magistrate before issuing a warrant to examine the informant on oath and reduce his statement to writing and it is undoubtedly the intent of this statute to prohibit the issuing of warrants of arrest in cases of felony on mere affidavits. By directing the magistrate to examine the informant on oath as a witness and to pass judicially on the evidence elicited and by prohibiting him from issuing a warrant unless the evidence is sufficient to satisfy him that a crime has been committed he is clothed with a power by which he can guard the public against the expense of trifling cases and causes instituted without probable cause and can guard individuals from the annoyance of arrests on false and mistaken charges of felony. I consider the law settled, that on charges of felony the magistrate has no jurisdiction to issue a warrant upon a mere affidavit like the paper which was filed in this case and called a complaint and that the Court did not [illegible] jurisdiction of the person of the defendant by virtue of the arrest under the warrant that issued without any examination of the informant or any other witness. But the petitioner [illegible] then apply for the writ of habeas corpus he entered into an undertaking and on a subsequent day went before the magistrate and submitted to an examination. In his undertaking he admitted that a criminal action [illegible] commenced against him in the said Court [illegible] [illegible] the property of [illegible] and [illegible] appointed [illegible] to take part in the examination [illegible]

[illegible]

The magistrate [illegible] that he [illegible]

It appears by the record [illegible] committed [illegible]

[illegible] and that the defendant be held to answer [illegible] and that he be committed [illegible] the Sheriff of Multnomah county until legally discharged.

The magistrate was [illegible] to find that the defendant [illegible] probability that the crime has been committed. It must appear from the examination that the crime has been committed and that it has been expressed in the written order.

The case must be remanded to the magistrate for a re-examination of the evidence.

PICNICS.

The Library and Christian Doctrine Society [illegible] held at their hall last Sunday resolved to make special arrangements to give a grand picnic. The time and place have not yet been decided.

Arrangements have been completed for the Unitarian Sunday School to have their picnic on Ross Island to-morrow. The grounds are finely [illegible] adapted for the purpose. If the weather should prove unfavorable [illegible] or Saturday morning the children and their friends will assemble at the foot of Taylor street preparatory to leaving, for the [illegible] at 9 o'clock. Should the day seem likely to prove stormy or unpleasant the picnic will be postponed. There will appear in the evening papers which will definitely inform those interested the children with their friends and the society generally are invited to participate in the event. A pleasant day.

Owing to the unpleasant state of the weather [illegible] evening many feared that the Methodist Sunday School excursion picnic would [illegible] place to-day. The Committee of Arrangements will ring the church bell to-[illegible] at 6 and 7 A M, should they deem proper to start on the trip. Arrangements have been made with the railroad Company to stop the train at the I street crossing in East Portland and those wishing to get aboard at that point will be at the Stark street ferry at 7:40 A M precisely. Tickets can be procured of the committee at the church on the [illegible] cars. In case of rain after reaching Aurora the excursionists will find ample shelter in that place. We trust the weather will be pleasant the attendance large and that all will have a general good time.

DISEASES OF THE BLOOD.

The Blood is the Life. When this source is corrupted the painful and sorrow producing effects are visible in many shapes. The multifarious forms in which it manifests itself would form subjects upon which I might write volumes. But as all the varied forms of disease which depend upon bad blood are cured or best treated by such remedies as take up from this fluid and excrete from the system the noxious element, it is not of practical importance that I should describe each. For instance in Ireland and the British there are twenty varieties of skin disease but as they all require for their cure very similar treatment it is of no practical utility to know just what name to apply to a certain form of skin disease so you know how to cure it. Then again I might go on and enumerate various kinds of scrofulous or sores, white swellings enlarged glands and ulcers of varying appearance. I might describe how virulent poisons [illegible] forms of eruptions, ulcers [illegible] manifestations of bad blood are cured by a uniform means. I deem such [illegible] unnecessary. Thoroughly cleanse the blood which is the great fountain of life, and good digestion a fair skin buoyant spirits vital strength and soundness of constitution will all return to us. For this purpose Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Purgative Pellets are pre-eminently the remedies. They are warranted [illegible] Salt Rheum, Scald Head [illegible] Pimples, Blotches, Spots, Eruptions, Pustules, Boils, [illegible] Erysipelas, [illegible] White Swellings, Affections of the Skin, Throat and Bones, and Ulcers of the Liver, Stomach [illegible]

FRIDAY MORNING MAY 22 1874

A POLITICAL FRACAS

A New York dispatch of May 6th says About nine o clock last night Senator John Fox entered the Masson Dorce and after a few minutes conversation with some friends went into the bar room While there Hon John Morrissey came in and the two Tammany leaders were soon engaged in conversation Their friendly talk gradually changed into a dispute and culminated into a wrangle All their political differences from the young Democracy fight of 1870 to the defeat of the Senator's aspirations for the Tammany nomination for the shrievalty were talked over each accusing the other of unfaithfulness and intrigue At length Mr Morrissey offered to bet $5,000 that the Senator could not be re elected or elected to any office in the city of New York Senator Fox's reply was an offer of a wager that Mr Morrissey could not be elected to any office Mr Morrissey again asserted that the Senator could not be re elected, and renewed his offer to back up his assertion by a bet of either $5,000 or $10,000 This wager the Senator agreed to take, but the money was not put up owing to some disagreement as to certain particulars A war of words then followed which ended by Mr Morrissey calling Senator Fox a —— liar The Senator's face colored up, and he asked Mr Morrissey to retract what he had said Mr Morrissey declined to do so, and put up his hands as though he expected that the Senator might attempt to strike him

Senator Fox, whose hands were encased in kid gloves, did not offer to strike, but asked Mr Morrissey to put down his hands saying "You do not mean to hit me?" "No," replied Mr Morrissey, "I don't want to hit you" "You —— gambler, you dare not hit me," said Senator Fox, excitedly, and advancing At this Mr Morrissey stepped forward and struck the Senator in the face, and butted him in the head twice As he put himself in position to deliver another blow mutual friends of the combatants interfered and separated them Senator Fox's face was bruised and slightly cut

A NEW IDEA IN CREMATION —A correspondent writes to Sir Henry Thompson a notable suggestion in regard to cremation —namely, that instead of building furnaces to consume the dead the town gas works be utilized Says this correspondent "Nearly every town possessing a cemetery also possesses gas works Therefore all that would be necessary would be a few retorts large enough to receive the coffin If the public objected to the gas being used in their private houses arrangements might be made to light only the street lamps with it If this plan of cremation was adopted the ratepayers must obviously be benefited" Putting aside all the ordinary objections to this mode of cremation and regarding it simply from its economical aspects, it has much to recommend it It is obviously the cheapest method yet suggested, and it has other advantages which seem to have been overlooked There is no estimating the brilliancy with which the public thoroughfares would be lighted if certain Congressmen and other gassy orators were thus enabled to show that "E'en in their ashes live their wonted fires" by emitting their light for the last time through the street lamps —N Y Herald

ANOTHER OF THOSE SINGULAR OCCURRENCES —The Kenosha (Wis) Union is responsible for this story On Wednesday afternoon of April 8, a short time after the gale came down from the north that capsized the two ill-fated fish-boats, a sister of one of the unmarried men on board, while busy at her work, became all at once deeply impressed with the idea that something terrible had happened to her brother. So excited and agitated did she become that she went to her mistress to beg she might go home. She knew nothing of her brother being on the lake that day, but had been informed that he was to go upon a vessel the next week She ran home to her parents, met her father at the door, and exclaimed to him, 'Oh, how glad I am that Chris is not on the lake!' 'But he is on the lake,' said the father, 'he took another man's place to-day' 'Oh! then he is drowned!' The father started for the lake, and got there in time to hear the first news of the capsizing of the boat his son was on, and that men were still seen clinging to one of the boats"

THE GARDEN OF EDEN

A VOICE FROM THE HOME OF ADAM AND EVE

From an interesting letter written by Rev Dr John P Newman and addressed to Hon Thomas L Tullock, of this city we make the following extract The letter is dated Garden of Eden March 6, 1874

I feel sure that a letter dated from this sacred and historic place will be as agreeable to you as from any other spot on this wide world Whether it is the identical site of the garden or not, the site is one of unsurpassed grandeur It is the very extreme of a great peninsula, which terminates here in a point not four feet wide. As I stood there I could extend my right hand over the Euphrates and and my left hand over the Tigris while at my feet their waters met and formed the Shat el Arab, whose course is to the sea and on my left was the river Iaab, which with the others, made the four rivers mentioned by Moses. The soil of the garden is rich, and is covered with groves of date-palms, wherein were flocks of beautiful white and brown colored doves! No one could wish for a grander birthplace washed by such majestic rivers and rich in such luscious fruits and as no other spot on earth is better supported as the cradle of our race I was content to believe that I was not far from where God formed man out of the dust of the earth, and where He planted a garden of delights, in which our first parents lived in the innocency of their new creation From an aged tree which stands on the banks of the river I plucked a leaf and which I inclose for you as a memento of Eden

BURIED IN SAND —The briefness of the period in which a city may become buried in the sand of an African desert is illustrated in the case of Ismailia which was built in 1860 at the time of the opening of the Suez Canal It then had 10 000 inhabitants It is now almost deserted, a miserable remnant of 1 000 people only being left Even the palace, built by the Viceroy to entertain his royal guests, is becoming dilapidated and the court yard is half full of drifting sand Trains between Cairo and Ismailia are often sand bound during a storm

PROF FAWCETT AND HIS WIFE —Prof Fawcett gives symptoms of an intention to imitate the late Mr Mill in public demonstrations of his matrimonial felicity In the preface to the fourth edition of his 'Manual of Political Economy' just published he says In preparing this edition I have derived the most valuable assistance from my wife who in applying herself to the work has shown the greatest care and assiduity I have also to thank her for having suggested many improvements and she has also pointed out many defects which had previously escaped my notice

Says the Owyhee Avalanche An individual calling himself a reformed drunkard lectured at Fairview one night recently on the 'China question the social evil intemperance and kindred subjects The lecture excited the Fairview people to such an extent that on the night after the lecture they tore down and demolished some houses occupied by Chinese and drove the inmates thereof out of town—solving the Chinese problem in a very summary manner

A MAGNIFICENT BOX —The Boston Transcript describes Mr A T Stewart's box at Niblo's Garden as rivaling in style and finish the box of any crowned head in Europe It has four rooms—a large parlor dressing room and box They are all richly carpeted and curtained and adorned with elegant mirrors and chandeliers A dance can be indulged in between the acts and a supper may be served from the Metropolitan Hotel

Since the beginning of ocean navigation by steam, thirty three years ago fifty one steamers have found the bottom of the ocean The first lost was the President and the last one the Europe

Danbury asks this startling question "Can the watermelon be successfully cultivated on sandy soil in a town of 4 000 inhabitants and a theological institute located near by containing 120 students studying for the ministry?"

One day recently the person in charge of the late Mr Sumner's house had all the buttons cut from his dress coat by a party of ladies and gentlemen who found the coat lying on a bed and supposed it to have been Mr Sumner's

Milwaukee Sentinel The worst feature about the cremation business is that some winter morning in a fit of philanthrophy your widow's second husband may empty your ashes on the icy pavement for the benefit of pedestrians

A Milwaukee man has applied for a patent on a fountain pen which by the pressure of the thumb on a small rubber ball projects a stream of ink through the holder and into the face of the fellow who is looking over your shoulder while you are writing

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC R R

The following are the leading features of the bill providing for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railroad submitted to the House of Commons by Hon Alex McKenzie Minister of Public Works It is the bill discussed in the House on the 20th inst a report of which debate was published in the [illegible] of yesterday

The road is to be divided into four sections the first will extend from Lake Nipissing to the upper or western end of Lake Superior the second from Lake Superior to Fort Garry the third from Fort Garry to some point between Fort Edmonton and the Rocky Mountains the fourth from the last named section to the Pacific Ocean at some point in British Columbia There will be two branches, one from Fort Garry to Pembina the other westward from the eastern terminus south of Lake Nipissing and eastward to some point on the Ottawa river The last named branch is a feature of the undertaking which was not included in the original Canadian Pacific Railway bill

The act fixes a subsidy of $10 000 per mile and a land grant of 20 000 acres per mile and a guarantee of 4 per cent for a given number of years on a sum to be stated [illegible] each one of the sections [illegible] the lowest sum [illegible] guarantee to be required [illegible] will be paid upon [illegible] in proportion to the nature and [illegible] work performed The land [illegible] equal mile blocks along the line of the road [illegible] will be taken to provide against [illegible] by the Government keeping control over two thirds of the land which [illegible] at prices to be agreed upon and [illegible] proceeds to be accounted for to the company [illegible] in proportion to the work [illegible] The remaining third will be handed over [illegible] company in the same proportion [illegible] available and of fair average [illegible] If such land cannot be found [illegible] road itself, they are to be allotted elsewhere The cost of the surveys will be a charge upon the subsidy

The bill will give powers to the Governor in Council to grant a bonus to any company that [illegible] with grants of land or money from the Province of Ontario secure the construction of the branch line extending from the eastern terminus of the main line to connect with existing or proposed lines of railway in Ottawa Valley The Governor in Council is also empowered to make with the company or companies owning any part of the [illegible] branch railway arrangements for leasing to them the portion which may belong to the Government The lease however will not be allowed to exceed a term of ten years and the binding must first be approved by the House of Commons Power is given to the Government [illegible] to suspend progress of the works at any time until the next ensuing session of Parliament
